

MASTERY in Optimization

IT Outsourcing Services

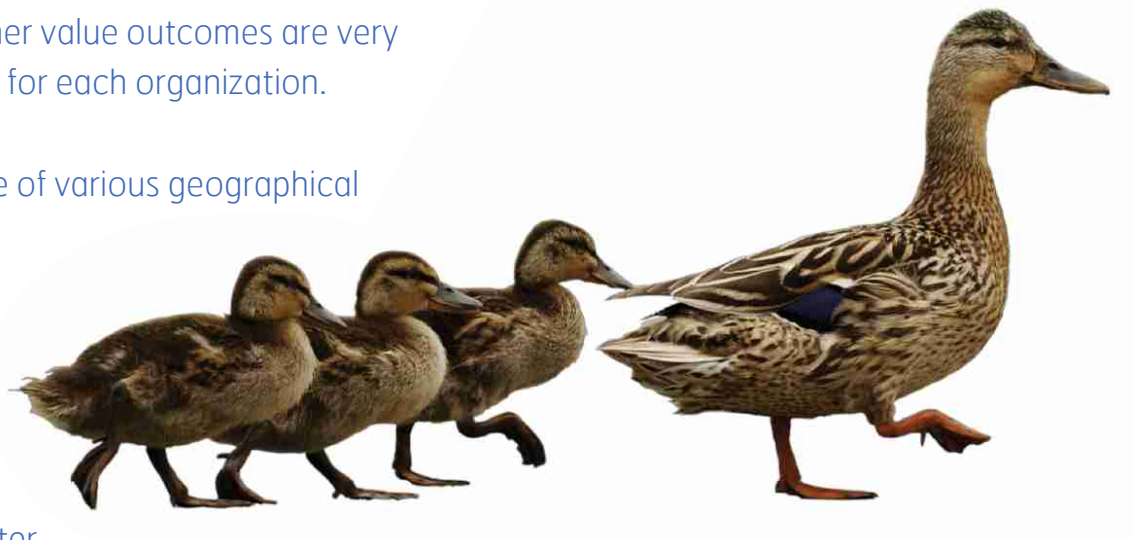

Mastery in Optimization: IT Outsourcing Services

Continuously increasing complexity in technology, changing economical conditions, competitive pressures on costs and rising demands for quality services are among the reasons why organizations need to address the return on investment of their IT services and improve the service management capabilities. Optimizing IT investments and creating processes that are business focused and support higher value outcomes are very important topics for each organization.

Probil's coverage of various geographical locations with IT Outsourcing Services can help you align your IT capabilities and resources to better support your business goals. Our consultants, architects and technical experts serve Probil's know-how and assets to our customers enabling them to focus on their own business requirements.

Probil's Offerings

- Wide range of services portfolio, from specific professional services up to complete strategic IT outsourcing
- Continuous service quality and service level improvements
- Cost cutting in IT operations
- ITIL based service management
- Strategy and planning partner on corporate IT investments

Why Probil?

Probil is managing various IT outsourcing contracts for customers from telecommunications, finance, general business, and government sectors. This enables us to understand your business priorities and bring you industry specific, end-to-end IT outsourcing experience. Probil leverage an integrated methodology based on industry best practices, tools, templates and standards while delivering it's services.